Welcome to GLI!

I'm so excited you've joined us! You've just said yes to something pretty amazing.

Here's what I'm wondering: What if you could become really good at leading yourself and inspiring others? What if you developed the kind of skills to help you become exactly who you want to be and create the life you're dreaming of?

That's what GLI is all about!

You'll start by setting a personal intention for yourself and making a bracelet to remind you of it every day. Over the next few months, you'll discover your strengths, build genuine confidence, and develop life and leadership skills that will serve you forever. Plus, you'll make real friendships with other incredible girls who are ready to grow alongside you.

You're going to surprise yourself with what you can do.

Get ready for an amazing journey!
